

Inter-Application Audio Sampling with SoundFlower

This tutorial covers how to stream audio from the internet right into your DAW using an app called SoundFlower.

---

How To Use Stereo Delay Lines

In this great tutorial from David Heartbreak, you can see how and why to use stereo delay lines in your productions.

There is also a downloadable project file on the Youtube description.

Splice has really made a splash in the music production world, and using their various tools, one can accelerate at a greater level than without it.

David Heartbreak's "Rose Colored Bass" feat. Maluca was the inspiration for this Splice tutorial, and you can download the project file below:

Download Project File

---

Blending Multiple Genres in One Track

In this cool tutorial from Splice, Chris Petti explains techniques for "switching up" genres in a single track.